कभी-कभार एक मान्यता होती है जो बाज़र पर चींठ मारने की हिम्मत करता है, वह बाज़र की चींठ पर बैठता है और उसकी गर्दन पर कटारता है, लेकिन बाज़र जवाब नहीं देता है, और न ही कौवा भी लड़ता है और न ही कौवा पर हमला करता है वह बस अपने पंख खोलता है और अचानक नई ऊंचा उड़ना शुरू कर देता है, उड़ना कितनी ऊंची होती है, उड़ना ही मुक्ति का होता है ऊपर सँभल लेना और फिर जीवनीजन्म की कमी के कारण कभी-कभार फिर जाता है। कौवे के साथ अपना समय बर्बाद करना बंद करो, बस आप खुद केबादलों पर चले जाओ और वे ऐसे ही मिट जायेंगे... अज्ञान

की दुपका पिला से कही। पिला ने स्वीकृति दी तो वह अपनी गर्भवती पत्नी से बाघ के पास छोड़ कर भागपन करने चला गया। परदेस में मैदान से बहुत धन कमाया और वह पत्नी सेठ बन गया। कल्पित धन अर्जित करने के बाद जब उसे संतुष्टी हो गई तो घर लौटने की दुपका हुई। पत्नी को यह लिख कर अपने की बुधना दी और जहर में सेठ बना। उसे जहर में एक बर्तन पिला जो कल्पित दुखी मन से भेजा था। सेठ ने उसकी उदारता का कारण पूछा तो उसने बताया कि इस देस में ज्ञान की कोई कट नहीं है। मैं यहाँ ज्ञान के सुन बंधने आया था पर कोई लेने को तैयार नहीं है। सेठ ने सोचा 'इस देस में मैंने बहुत धन कमाया है, और वह मेरी कर्मभूमि है, इसका मान रखना चाहिये'। उसने ज्ञान के सुन खरीदने की दुपका जलाई।

education. It is based upon careful diagnosis of defects and causes and aims to correct weaknesses and eliminates bad habits which may be found". So, remedial teaching is a special instruction. It is intended to overcome the difficulties of the students related to instruction. It is based upon careful diagnosis of defects and causes. It eliminates bad habits of learning. It also prevents future errors.

SALIENT FEATURES OF REMEDIAL INSTRUCTION

- 1) Remedial instruction is a dynamic side of the diagnostic testing. Hence it depends on the educational diagnosis.
- 2) To overcome the difficulties in learning and in acquisition of skills is the main purpose of remedial instruction.
- 3) Remedial instruction is not only useful to cure the shortcomings but also in preventive measures.
- 4) Remedial instruction is a short term treatment.
- 5) Remedial instruction helps the below average students to be with the normal students in acquiring the common level of achievement.

PRINCIPLES AND SUGGESTIONS IN REMEDIAL INSTRUCTION

Blair has given following principles in remedial instructions:

- i) Begin where the pupil is.
- ii) The pupil should be frequently progress, informed of his
- iii) The work must be real and vital to the pupil.
- iv) Definite satisfaction on the part of accompanying the work, the pupil should
- v) Abundant and varied exercises and be provided.

Following are some suggestions about remedial instructions:

- 1) Do not think that the pupil needing remedial measure is a dull one.
- 2) Do not assume that brilliant students need not require remedial measures.

3) Never start remediating without diagnosing the difficulties.

4) Remedial measures are not only essential in cognitive domain but also in affective and psychomotor domain. From the above principles and suggestions, it is clear that the teacher should consider all the factors causing difficulties in learning. Sympathy to the students is also an important aspect of remedial instruction. The difficulties at affective or psychomotor domain may cause learning difficulties. Teacher should investigate and overcome the difficulties. Remedial instruction should be given according to the areas of difficulties. Teacher should classify the students according to the categories and instruct. Remedial instruction needs remedial instructional materials and graded assignments as per the areas of difficulties.

INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS FOR REMEDIAL INSTRUCTION

The nature of instructional materials for remedial instruction depends upon the nature of difficulties of the pupils, the level of pupils and the causes of the difficulties. There are varieties of instructional materials as charts, flash cards, programmed learning booklets, graded assignments, audiocassettes, video cassettes, auto cued learning materials, computer aided learning materials etc.

Conflict

The word conflict has been derived from a Latin word 'Conflicts' which means 'strike two things at the same time'. Conflict is an opposition or a tug-of-war between contradictory impulses. According to Colman "A conflict is the anticipated frustration entailed in the choice of either alternative". Conflicts occur in the individual when more than one, equally powerful desires or motives are present at the same time and pressure for immediate satisfaction. If any one of the motives is weak, it will be suppressed and the stronger motive gains satisfaction. Conflicts give rise to a lot of tension in the individual, he becomes completely disturbed. Tension continues until a decision is taken and conflict is resolved. In total conflict may be a friction between two desires, motives, needs or values, finally the stronger one will take upper hand. Sometimes, when he cannot resolve the conflicts, the individual will be put into severe consequences, which he cannot withstand and try to escape from the field itself through unhealthy means.

1. Types of Conflicts:

There are different types of conflicts. Very common among them are:

- a) Intrapersonal or Goal conflicts b) Interpersonal conflicts, c) unconscious conflicts,

A. Intrapersonal conflicts:

These are the conflicts caused within the individual. These conflicts arise as a result of two or more motives or goals to be achieved at a time. Hence, these are called goal conflicts. Write and describe these types of goal conflicts. However, in addition to these there is one more conflict in which the individual faces more than one attracting or repelling forces making the individual to experience more stress. This is called multiple approach avoidance conflict. These are as follows:

1. Approach-approach conflict:

In this type of conflict individual will have two desires with positive valence which are equally powerful. For example, a person has two attractive job offers and he has to choose any one of them- tension arises. Such conflicts are not so harmful, because after selecting one, the other one automatically subsides or loses its importance to him. But in some situation choice will be very difficult. For example, a girl has to choose either loving parents or a boy friend for inter-caste marriage. Such cases are like "you cannot have the cake and eat it too". The individual will be psychologically torn and may lose equilibrium. This type of conflict is diagrammatically represented in Figure given below:

2. Avoidance-avoidance conflict:

This conflict involves two goals with negative valence. At times the individual is forced to choose one among two negative goals. In such conflicts, both are unwanted goals, but he cannot keep quiet without opting also. For example, a woman must work at a job which she dislikes very much or else she has to remain unemployed. Here the individual is caught between two repelling threats, fears or situations. When she cannot choose either of them she may try to escape from the field itself. But the consequences of the escape may also be harmful. For example, a person who cannot convince the mother or the wife may resort to Alcohol consumption which is otherwise dangerous or some people may even commit suicide. Such type of conflict is diagrammatically represented in Figure.
