

Sociology (UG)

Programme Outcome- After the completion of these program students will able to apply their scientific temperament in every walk of life in a society as a member as well as an observer. It will lead students to understand Indian society and its practices. It will lead scientific approach to see the living environment. It will develop the interdisciplinary understanding among the students to analyse other institutions and element that interact with society.

Programme Specific Outcome- It develop research orientation in the students. Students will able to understand, analyse and solve the puzzle of day to day life. These ideas will help students learn and grasp the fundamental principles of sociology in a more conceptual way. This course will help students expand their vocabulary and develop a scientific mindset. The course is meant to cover all of the fundamental topics in sociology, allowing students to gain strong insights into the differences between common sense and sociological knowledge.

Course Outcome-

B.A. II YEAR

Paper I Indian Society: Issues and Problems

Society in India today is undergoing rapid and massive changes. Many of the Changes are such that they tend to call into question the age-old social norms and practices, thus giving rise to some critical social issues and problems. This course is designed to identify and analyze come of such emerging Social issues and problems form sociological perspective. In the interest of systematic ordering, the issues and problems have been classified into four sets: structural, familial development and organizational. The course seeks to go beyond the common sense understanding of the prevailing social issues and problems in order to project them into their structural context. Accordingly, it focuses on their structural linkages and interrelationships. Hence the objectives of the course are to sensitize the students to the emerging social issues and problems of contemporary India, enable them to acquire sociological understanding of these issues and problems over and above their common sense understanding, empower them to deal with these issues and problems and to serve as change agents both in governmental and non-governmental and organizations.

Paper II Social Change and Social Control

Social change and Social Control have always been a central concern of Sociological study. So far as Social Change is concern, it has gained in salience partly because of its unprecedented rapidity and partly because of its planned character. The course is designed to achieve all aspect of social change as well as of Social Control.

B.A. III

Paper I Foundations of Sociological Thought

Sociology originated as an intellectual response to the crisis confronting the mid nineteenth century European society. Its development over two centuries since then has been influenced by a variety of socio-economic and political conditions where it has been taught and practiced.

It is established as a multi-paradigmatic academic discipline, with its body of theoretical knowledge enriched and its methodological techniques and procedures systemized, nevertheless, some of its original concerns have persisted and some of its classical theoretical and methodological landmarks are relevant even now. This paper is intended to familiarize the students with the social, political, economic and intellectual contexts in which sociology emerged as a distinctive discipline. Its objective is to help students gain an understanding of some of the classical contributions in sociology, and their continuing relevance to its contemporary concerns.

Paper II Social Research Methods

This course aims to provide an understanding of the nature of social Phenomena, the issues involved in social research and the ways and means of understanding and studying social reality. Thus the emphasis is there on the study of research method as a means of understanding social reality. There are different perspectives and methods (both quantitative and qualitative research) are to be covered.